- 9.7.1 At the starting signal (within +/-5sec) the pathfinder will round the pin end of the starting mark close hauled on port tack. All other boats shall start on starboard tack between the stern of the gate launch and the starting pin. As soon as the pathfinder clears the pin, the starting line is open. The pathfinder will sail close hauled on port tack for one minute. At one minute, the signal boat will sound a horn, signaling the closing of the gate. No boats shall start after this signal. After the signal, the pathfinder is clear to tack or sail as she pleases. The pathfinder for subsequent races will be the boat finishing 4th in the preceding race.
