

QUARTER DECK

It is hard to imagine a prettier weekend to open... the sailing season than we had this year. The sun and temperature were perfect. The wind left a little to be desired on Saturday (actually the wind just plain left). However, after Reverend Bill Egelhoff blessed the Fleet, the Rennie twins led the annual singing of the naval hymn, and Jon Moody and Mike Calkins treated us to an evening of great food, music and dancing, the wind did its part in time to give us good racing on Sunday, rounding out a beautiful spring weekend and an auspicious start to the sailing season. Mr. Roberts, Wildcat, and the club grounds and clubhouses were all looking their best and ready for action. The One Design fleets didn't get out to race, but pre-race preparations were much in evidence, and a strong turnout seems likely for the Stewpot Regatta on the 28th. A round of applause is in order for everyone who worked so hard over the last five months to get us here in such great shape.

The winter and spring race committee training sessions and David Hazlehurst's crew development initiative accomplished their goals of recruiting and preparing new crew and race committees. George Burke and Ed O'Connor did a first class job organizing a safety seminar we hope will become an annual pre-season opportunity to increase awareness and knowledge of safety related issues for anyone venturing out into the Bay and beyond. But the training and learning opportunities don't stop when the season begins. Elizabeth Staas is planning to provide racing rules and tactics seminars over the course of the year, team racing workshops are on the drawing board, and there will be further opportunities to master operation of our Race Committee boats. Proposals for hands on sessions with marine electronics, and for an afternoon of participatory man overboard (or is it Person In Water?) drills in Fishing Bay aimed at families who cruise the bay (and anyone else who wants practice), are all being fleshed out. So keep your eyes out for these and other chances to increase your knowledge. Each of these programs is also an opportunity to pass on what you know by volunteering to help out. If you want to get involved, or have an idea for a program or activity you'd like to see the club offer speak up and let us know. Helping each other master "the art and science of sailing" and acquire "knowledge of the theory and practice of seamanship, navigation, meteorology . . . and allied subjects" is what we do and what we are here for.

Within a month after my holding forth so confidently about how good our budgeting and planning processes are, our ability to deal with unwelcome surprises without abandoning our priorities or exceeding our budget is being put to the test. As you may have noticed, the drysail hoist on Jackson Creek is out of commission. The hoist, which was used when we got it in 1989, seems to have reached the end of its useful life, and preparations are underway to replace it and get it back in service as quickly as possible. On a happier note, the pool work is on schedule for completion in time for the opening of the pool Memorial Day weekend, and Ric Bauer and his band of volunteers are on target to complete installation of a wood floor in the barn by the time you read this.

Plans are already well underway for the annual race to Urbanna and our return to Rosegill for the celebration of the end of the spring sailing season and beginning of summer, but between now and then we have six weeks of the sailing and racing we've been looking forward to all winter. Sail safe, sail fast, and sail fair. If I don't see you on the docks...

I'll look for you on the water.

FBYC BOARD MEETING

HIGHLIGHTS

April 12, 2007

Meeting called to order at 6:05 p.m. by Commodore Allan Heyward.

REAR COMMODORE – R. NOEL CLINARD

SECRETARY – Four members are delinquent in paying their dues and will receive certified letters advising that if payment in full is not received by April 30, membership will be suspended. A New Member Reception will be held again this year in conjunction with a Board meeting in Deltaville on a date to be determined at the May Board meeting.

HOUSE – Wes Jones advised that the painters have finished painting the clubhouse.

DOCKS – Alex Alvis reported that all slips have been assigned and there are three boats on the waiting list. A survey of the docks (depths, widths, etc.) has been made and the annual maintenance and inspection of the hoist has been performed; however, the hoist is currently out of service but repairs should be completed before Opening Day.

SOCIAL – Mike Calkins would like to invite Hampton YC, Rappahannock River YC and Yankee Point YC to the Rosegill social.

GROUNDS – Clean Up Day was very successful with 52 volunteers. Mayo Tabb has been coordinating with David Lee of the Stove Point Improvement Association (“SPIA”) about purchasing several signs designed to slow traffic to be installed on the east and west sides of the property. A white “cross walk” will also be painted on the road in line with the west entrance.

Ric Bauer discussed the pool repair work. An inspection with the plastering contractor showed that the entire bottom and many spots on the sidewalls were chipping and must be repaired. The “baby” pool will be repaired at the same time and the pools should be ready by Memorial Day weekend.

Strother Scott recommended that a representative from the club discuss SPIA’s proposed water system project with David Lee and determine to what degree, if any, the club should be involved.

WEBMASTER – All of the Sailing Events now have “Chairs” listed online. David Hazlehurst has provided Strother Scott with the data for the 2007 crew candidates. Strother has created a new Crew Finder link, which includes the 2006 and 2007 candidates, and is accessible on the home page. The new Volunteer system has been set up on the web site and Strother reviewed the different sections of a “Manual for Web Site Tools & Events” and how the Manual can be used to manage events and volunteers. Commodore Heyward asked that Board members review the Manual, try out the web tools available during the next 30 days, and be prepared to decide at the May Board meeting how we can best implement a system to record all volunteer names.

PUBLICITY – David Hazlehurst advised that Valerie Hubbard is working on an article for Virginia Living. Lee Graves, a sports reporter for the Richmond Times Dispatch, plans an article on crew recruiting.

VICE COMMODORE – RICHARD A. BAUER, JR.

FLEET CAPTAIN – Jay Buhl sent the 2007 Sailing Schedule to the Coast Guard. Jay expressed thanks to everyone involved in the training sessions conducted this year to date and especially to David Lee who has already spent 8+ days focused on Race Committee training.

ONE DESIGN DIVISION – Tom O’Connell advised that he has checked the boats in the small boat parking lot and there are some that do not have sticker numbers, which is a requirement for all boats whose owners have paid to keep them there. He will try to determine the names of the boat owners.

CRUISING DIVISION – George Burke reported that 67 people registered for the Safety at Sea program on April 14 in addition to the special guests and speakers.

JUNIOR DIVISION – To date, there are 43 signed up for Junior Week, 17 for OptiKids and four for Learn2Sail. Eric Powers suggested that the early registration deadline be extended 10 days. The Board agreed that the lease to rent a small house at Gene Ruark’s marina should be signed to accommodate the Junior coaches. Eric is still trying to hire a local coach (paid) to help with spring practices and some CITs (unpaid) to assist the coaches during Junior Week. FBYC is also working with Christchurch School, Hampton YC and St. Christopher’s School to bring high school sailing to the club. Several events will be held at the club in April/May that will include some FBYC juniors. It is hoped that this cooperation will lead to the eventual development of a club-based FBYC high school sailing program.

FLEET LT. – Mike Dale reported that the hull on Mr. Roberts has been repaired and new equipment for the boats has been installed.

PROTEST – Elizabeth Staas needs a room that will hold more than 20 people for the Dave Pyron Racing Rules seminar and would appreciate hearing from anyone who has a location to recommend.

PARTICIPATION – David Hazlehurst reported that 15 people turned out for the first day of on-the-water crew training. The April 7 session was not held because of snow. Brochures prepared by Jon Deutsch advertising the club have been printed and are ready for use.

NEW BUSINESS – Ric Bauer presented drawings showing the projected use of the 10 stalls in the barn located on the new property. Three of the stalls are currently being used by Dixon. He recommended that three be used for the Junior Division and two for one-design storage, with two uncommitted at this time. He has an estimate for installing wood flooring in seven of the 10 stalls, and the Board approved the installation of the flooring system.

Allan Heyward announced that several recommendations concerning the 4-year membership rule for sponsors under the Membership Guidelines would be brought up for discussion before the Board in May.

Tom Hawksworth has contacted Chip Hall about making Jackson Creek a “no discharge” body of water. Stove Point residents want more enforcement of the law pertaining to what is discharged into the creek.

There being no additional business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:05 p.m

SAFETY AND SEAMANSHIP SEMINAR

73 members, community guests, and speakers attended the FBYC Safety at Sea Course, presented in the FBYC clubhouse, on 4/14/07. Our speakers were led by moderator Sheila McCurdy who chairs the US Sailing National Faculty and is a US Sailing Passage Making Training instructor. Joining Sheila were Dr. Jim Barton, an emergency medicine specialist who served as ship's physician for the 1985 trans-Atlantic Godspeed voyage, Jim Campbell, instructor for the USCG National Search and Rescue School, Pat Healy, former sailing instructor for the US Naval Academy and marine meteorologist, Ray Walden from the Deltaville fire department, and Chip Kinsey, an ATB commissioning captain and former tugboat skipper. Each gave his perspective on sea safety issues pertinent to Bay and coastal sailing. The success of these speakers can be gauged by the remarks of one very experienced FBYC offshore racing skipper who said "before I came to this course I thought my knowledge of safety issues was on a 7 out of 10 level; instead, I was a 1.5!" With their donations and good will, multiple sponsors helped to subsidize this program. These included Fawcett Boat, Annapolis Yacht Sales South, Chesapeake Yacht Sales, Gratitude Yachting Center, Norton's Yacht Sales, Tartan C&C Yachts of Virginia, and West Marine.

Hey Juniors (and parents), You Can Still Do It!

Yes, the early registration period for Opti-Kids, Junior Week and Race Team has passed but its still not too late to get in on a summer of sailing fun. The attached registration form is provided for members and non-members to sign up their juniors for any or all of our outstanding sailing programs. Although there is no late registration fee for Learn2Sail, daily coaching or coaching by appointment, we still need a head count for our other programs.

Please remember that even before Opti Kids or Junior Week FBYC will host four week-end warm-up clinics for juniors that want to get back in the boat and find their groove early so they'll be primed for the up coming racing season or just making the most of time with the coaches. The clinics are held on the same days as the FBYC One-design Spring Series races starting Saturday April 28th, Sunday May 6th, Saturday, May 19th and Saturday, June 2nd. The events start at 10:00 am and conclude at 3:00 pm. We'll have opportunities for Green Fleeters to start down the road to racing as well as practice races for advanced junior sailors. You can sign up online and even reserve a boat by contacting Eric Powers at eric.powers@mma1.com.

It's not too early to start thinking about life after Junior Week (June 18th-22nd). This season we're doubling up on Learn2Sail coaches so that we're better able to handle all levels of sailors from beginner through intermediate. There will be opportunities for beginning racers to build their skills in preparation for joining the race team or to simply enjoy sailing the afternoon away on beautiful Fishing Bay. For the race team, we'll all want to get started planning our circuits around the Bay and to regional and national events.

Anyone needing assistance in choosing the right program for their child is urged to contact Junior Division Commander Eric Powers at 804-706-1427 or eric.powers@mma1.com.

Home on Fishing Bay for rent by the week.

Just five houses from the Yacht Club, within walking distance.

The house faces the west, so we get all the pretty sunsets. The pier is 330 ft long, has 15 ft of water at the end and light on it. The house has three bedrooms and two baths. It is 2200 sq. ft. There is a dining room, and living room divided from the kitchen by a large counter/bar. I have a full sized washer and dryer, dish washer, Dish TV in two rooms. There are two porches, one on the West side with a hot tub and sitting area, the other on the East side under roof with sitting area and a grill.

Call (804) 776-6481 for further information.

This is also an opportunity to get to know the other parents and volunteers involved in making our junior program a success.

Special Note: As part of registration for either Learn to Sail or Race Team Extended, parents are required to volunteer for at least two events this season; preferably more.

This is the Fifth in a series marking the road to the Flying Scot®

North American Championship ("FS NAC"), June 24-27, at FBYC.

Work continues on preparations for the FS NAC. The ramp is finished and operating. Catering contracts are being finalized. Trophies are designed and ordered. Registrations are coming in regularly and approaching 30 boats, but, curiously, so far, we have only 4 boats registered from FBYC.

Hopefully that will improve soon. Jeff Penfield, one of the deans of Flying Scot sailing and skipper of Damfino, whom we met at Midwinter's, is bringing his boat to Fishing Bay in early May, before visiting an elder hostel program in Baltimore, venturing North to Canada and Quebec before returning to FBYC. Nothing stops Jeff and his boat Damfino, named after the notorious Buster Keaton boat ("Damn Fine 1" or as the Coast Guard understood, "Damn If I Know"), the source of great levity in the silent film Jeff loved as a child. See, www.busterkeaton.com/Fdamstory.htm. Doing a Buster routine of his own, Jeff fell out of his boat at Midwinter's this spring, but was rescued by Dave Osler who sails the Avocado colored boat Mike Massie and I christened "The Refrigerator" after the stylish refrigerators of our youth. That earned Dave the Sportsmanship Trophy. Dave will join us at the NAC too and is camping at Fishing Bay. Ralph C. Jones "Red Dog" Jones from Dallas and its Corinthian Yacht Club, will be there with his boat "hit the trail" and a contingent of 6 to 8 other Texas boats. Our buddy Larry Vitez from Lake Norman is coming to stay in my condo. Our Team Racing nemesis, Jimmy Lee, from Lake of the Woods will sail as "Master." How can you miss sailing with such a bunch? Sure, Fisher, Neff, Egan, and our own fast guys Travis, Mike n' John and "Big John" Hubbard will be there leading the fleet, but the rest of us will have a great time with our Flying Scot pals and a laugh a minute. Don't miss it. Make us proud by a high percentage turnout from the FBYC fleet.

Opening Day party

The opening day party was a great success thanks to Jon Moody and his committee. We had a total 150 attend with great food and great song.

Just Cruzan

Milford Haven is the body of water embraced by Gwynn Island and the main land. This a fun destination and only 3 miles away. It boasts a couple of unique destinations.

You must first get through the swing bridge, however. This is not a hard task. Just call the bridge on channel 13 and request an opening. On my first boat, I just got close and blew a horn. Once inside, you will see the Coast Guard station to your starboard.

Unique #1: The closest restaurant to FBYC that you can visit by boat. The Sea Breeze is a fried everything type of place and is located next to a boat ramp to your port after going through the bridge. IMPORTANT – Be sure to go past Green #5 before heading towards the Sea Breeze. You can anchor in 10' of water near the place and then dinghy in.

Unique #2: Birthday Cake Ice Cream. Kramer and I walked up the road from Callis Wharf and found ourselves at a country store. They have just about everything you might forget to bring on a weekend. Plus, they serve hand packed ice cream. We tried the Birthday Cake and decided it was the best ever.

Unique #3. Deserted Island. Sandy Point is a deserted island on the northern side of The Hole in the Wall. Check your chart for a place to anchor. You can't get real close but the dinghy ride is short. There is one place that has a 7' spot you can drop your anchor in else, you will be in 9'. This is a fun place to spend the day ashore with a picnic and then return for a bon fire later on.

Unique #4. Closest Neighboring Yacht Club. Mathews Yacht Club is up Stutt Creek. We have reciprocal rights with them and they usually have a couple empty slips. They have a pool. A one option dinner is served on Saturday nights. No bar but they have a bar tender. How does that work? You bring your own bottle, give it to the bartender, and he serves it to you. You pay for mixers.

Remember, there is a board posted in Fanny's House that is intended for letting people know your weekend float plan. Check it if you have no plans or write your's in if you do

Welcome Cruisers Dinner

On Saturday 3/31/07, following Spring clean-up day, museum president Raynelle Smith and Kaptain Krunch, on behalf of the Deltaville Maritime Museum, presented FBYC and our past Commodores a decorative oar honoring their participation and support of the museum's Jamestown 400 Shallop project. Following this presentation, 40 gregarious and eager cruisers enjoyed a discussion of the Cruising Division's 2007 schedule (see FBYC EVENTS BOOK) and a hearty meal courtesy of social chairs Lyons Burke and Myra Bennett and all the participants who contributed potluck dishes

After Rosegill Cruise to YPYC

FBYC cruisers will join Yankee Point Yacht Club cruisers on Sunday, May 27th at Yankee Point Yacht Club on Myers Creek just off the Corrotoman River. Slips will be limited so plan to anchor out and dinghy ashore. Bring the beverage of your choice (ice will be provided) and an hors d'oeuvre to share for cocktail hour at 6:00 PM. We will provide dinner with N.C. BBQ and dessert (just the way grandmother made it) at 7:15 PM. Our hosts will be Charles and Carol Lytton who are FBYC members and Charles is also Commodore of Yankee Point Yacht Club.

Please make your reservation by 5/23/07 and indicate how many guests you will have. Children are welcome. RSVP to Charlie and Stella Jones at (336)273-9158 or stellajone@aol.com or register on the FBYC website.s

ONANCOCK CRUISE COMING UP

This is one of the Jamestown 400 events. Please read the description and details on page 80 of the 2007 Sailing Events booklet. This should be a great cruise. Saturday dinner is arranged for the first floor of Stella's. The menu is not yet set but think in the area of $23.00 plus tax and tip if we have a three main course buffet. Ordering from the menu ranges from $12 to $22. We will wait to see what attendees prefer. Three docks are reserved so let us know. It will be first come. There is a good anchoring area but a dingy will be needed. Fay & John Koedel (804) 776-6168.

Participation status, May '07.

Elsewhere in the May Log you will find an article by Strother Scott describing a new Volunteer system that helps Event Managers locate members who have signed up for tasks in 12 categories, an invaluable tool for those needing help for any program. In time, this system will provide us with much faster access to records showing who has already put in their duty days for any year. Plus it will almost certainly be more accurate than the labor intensive system spreadsheet I used last year.

However, to more evenly distribute the workload across our entire membership, we need all members to register their job preferences. As of April 19 we had 75 members whose family names begin with either A or B who had not yet registered. Just guess at the total number! Under no circumstances should any member assume that by not registering they will not be asked to serve; indeed I plan to use the list of undeclared members as my starting point for help with parking at the Flying Scot North American Championships at the end of June.

For the record I have a list of 52 members who helped with Grounds clean-up on March 31, and 42 members who put in a full or half day at the Race Committee Training sessions at Retreat Hospital on March 17, aimed at improving the effectiveness of our Race Committees. Look at all the events listed on the web site and you'll see ample opportunities to help Race and Social Committee Chairs with an event almost any weekend between now and the end of October. Please don't wait to be asked; with our goal of having 60% of our members contribute their two days of duty in 2007 we need all of you.

Finally in the March Log there was an article titled "Lowering the barriers to sailing". We have increased our crew pool by almost 20 as a result of our 2007 Crew Training Program. Any Skipper needing crew for any event should call any of the candidates listed on the Crew Finder feature on the club web site. And if skippers know they need crew they have an opportunity to publicize their need when they register for an event. Their need will be publicized on the home page of the club web site under "Sailors seeking rides" by choosing the "see who needs crew" feature. Try it, you'll like it.

The FBYC Cap Club - Bill Harris Commodore 1970

We are doing the "cap thing" in honor of our daughter, Holly Anderson, who first sailed at Fishing Bay when she was four; probably in 1962, in our Penguin, along with Nonnie, her two year old brother, Clay, and yours truly on the helm. She had major surgery for cancer last month and begins chemotherapy on Thursday. We hope and pray that CAPT Clay Harris, USN, will return safely from Baghdad in about two months, after his third combat tour in the Iraqi Theater.

Now, the Harris family, parents and four children, will each have a FBYC cap to wear on special occasions. In this part of the world, we honor women, particularly, who have cancer, go through chemo and lose their hair. So these FBYC caps will have special meaning for us. Thank you.

FBYC EVENTS

2007 Front Runner Mid Winters Davis Island Yacht Club, Tampa, FL

Seeking a break from February's icy grip the hardy Front Runner fleet spent much of the month readying trailers and arranging accommodations for the 10th annual trek to sunny Florida. Davis Island Yacht Club scheduled three (3) days of racing (March 2, 3 & 4) for Fireballs, Front Runners, International 110s, Interlakes and Windmills and two (2) days of racing (March 3 & 4) for Flying Scots and Classic Moths Front Runners entered 7 boats (4 from FBYC) who were greeted with warm hospitality but unusually severe cold front that produced sustained winds in excess of 20 knots thus forcing abandonment of 1st days scheduled races for most fleets.

Against better judgment a windmill and some Fireballs braved the weather and provided the spectators hours of suspenseful lessons in heavy weather survival. Ultimately most boats and crews returned battered but not severely broken under the gaze of several dozen spectators seeking shelter in Davis Island's recently renovated club house. One unfortunate windmill sailor was de-masted and nearly washed into the rip rap of the club's causeway before a heroic rescue could be mounted by the race committee chase boat to save boat and crew.

The remaining two days of racing offered a mix of overcast windy conditions and finishing with sunny and picture perfect sailing conditions to end the 10th annual Front Runner Mid Winters. This highlighted with spicy night life of Ybor city and the Tahitian Inn happy hour by the pool, the trip was deemed a great success by the time everyone returned home by Monday night

Help Us Hang this Painting in the FBYC Clubhouse, by Jere Dennison

Judith Woodbury, noted Deltaville artist, has donated a watercolor, shown here, to The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society for the Auction scheduled this summer in conjunction with The Leukemia Cup Regatta. The Auction is one of the Regatta's most successful events, raising thousands of dollars for patients battling blood cancers.

The subject of Judith's painting this year commemorates the John Smith Shallop Rendezvous to be held at FBYC on August 25-26. The painting depicts Captain John Smith and crew exploring Fishing Bay in 1608 with an ethereal image of the FBYC clubhouse looming on the bank above, thereby spanning the four-century connection between the early settlers and FBYC.

Because the theme is so closely identified with our club, The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society strongly felt that it would more appropriate for FBYC to retain the painting for display in the clubhouse through a fund-raising effort among its members than to place it in the auction for public purchase. And this handsome framed painting that measures 28" x 33" would make a great addition to our clubhouse to memorialize the important Shallop Rendezvous event that is already attracting regional and national attention.

We are asking members to consider a minimum tax-deductible donation of $50 to the Leukemia-Lymphoma Society using the form below. In return, each contributor will receive a suitable-for-framing 8 1/2 x 11 print of the original painting by FMA of Deltaville. To minimize handling expenses, we will distribute prints at the Regatta's Art on Fishing Bay on June 9, The Regatta's Auction on July 6, and the Shallop Rendezvous on August 25. If you are unable to be present at any of these events, please so note and we will find a way to get the print to you.

More on the Artist

Judith has been an artist most of her life. Early training at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston prepared her for a career in Silver-smithing and Jewelry. Drawing and painting were on "the back burner" so to speak until such time she and her husband arrived in Deltaville. They had been living aboard their Nauticat Motor Sailor, cruising the East coast of the US. When they discovered an old house on Jackson Creek, they decided to settle down. They built a dock for the boat and began work on the restoration, which would include a studio. The artist is attracted by the faces and places of Deltaville. Her first love is portraiture, but secondly she likes to paint old houses and water scenes. She is affiliated with a group of artists who meet once a month to paint "en plein air" in and around town. This is the fourth year she has donated a painting to the Southern Chesapeake Leukemia Cup in Deltaville.

Leukemia Cup Season Opens in May

The 9th season of Southern Chesapeake Leukemia Cup activities begins in May. Events include the Kayak Tour and Junior Regatta Challenge, both on May 12, and Art on Fishing Bay on June 8. These important events herald the Auction, Regatta, and Gala to be held over the weekend of July 6 – 8 at FBYC and Stingray Point Marina. And how successful have been these events in raising funds for patients battling blood cancers? Over the first eight years, more than $1,000,000 has raised, making this Leukemia Cup one of the most successful in the nation!

The Kayak Tour

The fun starts with the Kayak Tour to be held again this year at the Deltaville Maritime Museum and Holly Point Nature Park from 9AM to Noon on Saturday, May 12. The launch site at beautiful Holly Park provides the perfect protected venue on Jackson Creek for this event while allowing convenient access to the big waters of Chesapeake Bay if conditions allow. This tour has become increasingly popular over the past years, and co-sponsor, Bay Trails Outfitters, will provide kayaks for newcomers and those without kayaks if you register early. Otherwise, bring your own kayak and gear.

Equally a fundraising event, kayakers are encouraged to raise funds to help fund research and find a cure for leukemia, lymphoma, and myeloma. Prizes are given to the top three fundraisers and the leading fundraiser will take home a special award. Refreshments will also be available and an informal reception will follow the tour. For an online registration form, go to www.leukemicup.org/va or at the Deltaville Maritime Museum site at <http://museumpark.deltavilleva.com>. Further information can be obtained from Jan or Shawn Towne at Bay Trails Outfitters, 804.725.0626 and email kayak@baytrails.com. Or contact Sue Willis at The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, (800) 866-4483 or sue.willis@lls.org.

The Junior Regatta Challenge

High school sailing teams descend on Christchurch School on Saturday, May 12 to compete for honors on the racecourse and raise funds for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. Schools from all across Virginia will be participating again this year in this exciting event. The top three fundraising schools will also receive special awards, and Bank of America is the event sponsor again this year. For further information, contact Sue Willis at The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, (800) 866-4483 or sue.willis@lls.org.

Art on Fishing Bay

Art on Fishing Bay, one of Middlesex County's premier art shows, again joins forces with The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society and FBYC to help patients battling blood cancers. Last year, all attendance records were smashed during this blockbuster event. So mark your calendar for Friday, June 8, 5:30 – 9:00 PM, at FBYC and arrive early to have your pick of arts and crafts produced by 26 local and regional exhibiting artists, several of whom are club members.

While hunting for that perfect art object to complement your home and cottage decor or refreshing yourself at the cash bar, enjoy soothing background music provided by the talented "Swinging Strings" trio, and the "Strings & Things" quartet. Admission is a donation benefiting The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society and a hors d'oeuvre to share with your fellow art patrons. For more information, go to www.fbyc.net or contact Bob Kates at 804.776.6950 or email fma@oonl.com.

In other Leukemia Cup news, Carolyn Norton Schmalenberger and Judy Buis, FBYC members and repeating co-chairs of the event, are very pleased to announce that SunTrust Banks will again take center stage as Presenting Sponsor of the Regatta. Everyone is invited to explore the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's Virginia Regatta website at www.leukemicup.org/va for information on how they can participate in all of the 2007 Leukemia Cup activities. by, Jere Dennison
